June 26.

Late Foreign Intelligence.

By arrivals at N. York.

LONDON May 2.

Yesterday Sir Edward Pellew was appointed by the lords of the Admiralty, to the command of the East India fleet, in the Room of admiral Rainier.

The Senatus Consultum, by which Bonaparte is expected to be proclaimed emperor of the Gauls, will according to the last accounts from Paris very shortly make its appearance. With respect to the invasion the only mention we find is, that it is not expected to be undertaken until all the French and Batavian flotillas have formed a junction at Boulogne.

Louis Bonaparte has been appointed a Counsellor of state as he is the only one of the brothers of the First Consul who has male issue. This circumstance seems not irregular to the reports which still continue, of the establishment of a hereditary succession.

His imperial majesty the Emperor of Germany has forbidden all French emigrants to reside in the Austrian territories within fifty leagues of the French republic.

The senate of Hamburg has acceded to the demand of the French minister, and has at his instance, permitted domiciliary visits to be made in that city, to discover any persons who may be obnoxious to the French government, or who may have any papers, that can lead to the discovery of any plots or designs that may be formed against it.

The process against the persons in confinement on account of the late conspiracy, will it is said not begin before the 5th of May. Moreau will have Chassau la Carde for his first advocate, and Lamalle for his second.

A considerable movement is now observable among the troops for the expedition. Several battalions in the vicinity of Paris are on their march for the coast, to which are daily sent considerable transports of provisions.

Pursuant to a Batavian Electoral Ordinance, such emigrants only are tolerated in those dominions, who shall produce documents attested by the French envoy at that court, proving their being comprised in the amnesty, or expecting soon to be included in the same; also those who have become residents in that Electorate, the old and infirm who cannot travel. All the others are to quit the Electoral Provinces within 8 days.

A private letter from Berlin of the 16th April, says, "The arrival of two Aids-de-camps of the First Consul and three couriers have caused several reports. In our diplomatic circles, it is said and believed, that they are come to propose that our king shall change his title to that of Emperor, and that Bonaparte in return for this compliment shall be acknowledged Emperor of the Gauls with the unanimous consent of the French nation: Our king is also to guarantee the succession of the throne to the family of Bonaparte. It is also proposed, with a promise of further advances, that our sovereign shall keep Louis XVIII and the other Bourbons, confined within the limits of the city of Warsaw; and to permit a French agent to reside there to inspect their conduct. I have heard that our ministers endeavoured to elude a direct answer and though pressed, have declared, that our sovereign would follow the example of other sovereigns, and that our ambassadors, particularly those at St. Petersburg and Vienna, should be instructed to learn the opinions of these courts upon the subject.

The Swift cutter, from Plymouth to Lord Nelson's fleet with dispatches, has been captured by a French privateer, of 12 guns and one hundred and fifty men, and carried into Barcelona.

The report of a regency is received and accredited in the best informed circles; and the measure is said to have the full approbation of his majesty. Several days must elapse before any final arrangements of the new ministry can be formed. The rumors of this subject are too contradictory and ridiculous to be treated with any serious observation.

We learn with great regret by letters received from Lisbon, of the 21st ult. that the Hindestan 54 guns captain Le Gros, which sailed February 12, from Plymouth, with Stores for Gibraltar and Lord Nelson's fleet had caught fire and was burnt. With the fate of the crew we are not acquainted.

It is now a well ascertained fact that had the House of Lords come to a division on Monday night, the opposition would have had 76 personal votes, and 42 proxies; which compared with the ministerial numbers expected on that occasion, would have given a majority of nineteen in favor of the Marquis of Stafford's motion.

By an account on the table of the House of Commons it appears that the total amount of the temporary and permanent Duties of Excise, in England, outstanding on bond or otherwise, on the 5th of January 1804, was, 3,291,773l. 9s. 4d. 3-4 and on the 5th of January, 1804, amounted to 6,309,248l. 5s. 3d. 1-4d.

In consequence of the new arrangements in contemplation of the Supreme government of India, the city of Allshabad, from its advantageous situation at the confluence of the Ganges and Jumra, will become the grand exaporium of the ceded provinces.

The First Consul is said to receive every evening at St Cloud, a report of the examination of the conspirators. The confinement of General Moreau is rendered more irksome by the presence of a nightly guard in his prison, as it may be supposed from a humane principle of preventing suicide.

A morning paper says, "His royal highness the Prince of Wales, on Monday morning, declared to Mr. Calcraft, and others, his determination to throw his whole weight into the scale of opposition. This it is added, possibly may have accelerated the decision taken by ministers.

May 3.

The Hamburg mail of the 25th ultimo, brings intelligence from Paris to the 13th, and Moniteurs have been received to the same date.

It appears, from a variety of concurring articles that the Corsican's ambition is on the point of being gratified with the title of Emperor of the Gauls. The addresses upon this subject speak a language that cannot be mistaken, and it has, no doubt, been suggested by the government itself. The general council of the department of Eure, in its address to the First Consul, says, "You will not forget citizen First Consul, that it is your high destination not only to bestow happiness on the present, but also to secure the welfare of future generations. The French nation leaves to your paternal care the choice of the means, its love guarantees its approbation of them." And the general council of the department of Upper Maine observes, "Your benefits, citizen First Consul, are the more valuable, since they give us a view of new projects, which, when matured, will conform to us abundance and happiness, and thereby consolidate your glory and our gratitude."

It is confidently stated, that Bonaparte's nephew Napoleon, the youngest son of Louis Bonaparte, will be provisionally appointed his successor, under the guardianship of Joseph Bonaparte. The Legion of Honor is also to be declared hereditary; the Legislative Body and the Tribunate to be united, and their members to be divided into land-holders, literati and commercial men, and their functions to be continued for ten years.

The minister of war set out for the coast on the 17th of last month.

The French ambassador has desired the banishment of the bishop of Nancy from Vienna.

The Jamaica, Eifen, and Fortitude, of Whitehaven, and two vessels named Peggy, belonging to Greenock, part of the Apollo's convoy, are reported to be lost on the coast of Portugal.

The Maria, Rilton, from Liverpool, to Tortola is wrecked on the coast of Portugal.

The John and Ann sailed from Halifax 10th November last, for Greenock, and has not since been heard of.

DOVER, May 1.

A very heavy firing has been heard at times in the direction of Boulogne part of yesterday, and at times all this day; and we are without any account of the result. Several French privateers have been on our coast in the thick weather, and have made several captures. A report is very current, that a flag of truce is coming over from Calais, with passengers &c. one of our fishermen hailed her, but it becoming very thick, lost her in the fog; several boats are gone out to endeavour to fall in with her and some light horsemen are ordered to patrol the beach between Deal and Dover to hinder any improper persons landing and getting into the country, without being properly examined.

PLYMOUTH, April 30.

It has been so foggy these two days past that the Sound and Cawsand bay has been quite obscured. Last night two expresses arrived from the commander in chief of the Citadel and the port admiral, but their contents are not known.

STUTGUARD, April 4.

Yesterday Mr. Spencer Smith, English minister to the elector of Wirtemberg, departed suddenly. He spent several hours in burning all his papers—The Abbe Pericaud, who had been given to him at London by the Abbe Ratel, to frame the conspiracy which they had planned in France, followed him in his flight.

It was reported here that Mr. Spencer Smith had a mission relative to the troubles in the interior of France, but we should never have thought that he would have debased his character so far as to embrace in such an infamous plot as the latter did.

A few weeks ago, Spencer Smith had sent many Bills to Paris; he had also sent some to Zurich; which induces us to believe that he was no stranger to the riots which agitate Switzerland at present.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.

The following was received yesterday morning from Oporto, and has been obligingly handed us by a respectable commercial house in this city.

DIRECTIONS

Given by Bernard de Clamouse Brown, consul of the States of America in the city of Oporto, to all the masters of American vessels, to be observed in this harbour.

1. All ships that come over this bar, are to bring to at St. Johns, to receive the visit of the castle.

2. If the master of any vessel should happen to have no direction for any house in this city, whom to consign, either his vessel or cargo, the consul will recommend him to a house of responsibility; by this means the captains will avoid all impositions to which strangers are subject.

3. Any ship that wants Franquia, viz. licence to get out again without unloading, must not come to anchor higher than between the Cross Rock and King's Yard called Ouro, and is to demand Franquia within twenty-four hours; and any master who shall neglect to do it within that time will be obliged to come up and deliver: but to obtain Franquia, it is necessary to have it expressed in his charter party, bills of lading, and other documents, what other port he is bound to.

4. Any ship that is to unload but part of her cargo here, declaring at the custom-house, what part of it is for another port, she will be permitted to proceed accordingly, provided it be expressed in the charter party, bills of lading, &c.

5. No ship that brings gun-powder must come up higher than Massarellas, where she is to wait till the proper officers go aboard to have it unloaded there, but the master is to come ashore (after the several visits have been aboard) and make entry at the custom-house of his cargo, and at the consular office.

6. All ships that bring bills of health are to come up to the Bandeirinha, at Miragaya, & the masters are to attend on board for the visits of health, inquisition and tobacco, having the ensign spread in its proper place.

7. When the tobacco visit goes aboard, both masters and sailors must be very careful in producing what tobacco they have to the officers, because, in case the least quantity should be afterwards found more than was at first produced (according to the certificate the master signs) it will be deemed a concealment, and they will be liable to imprisonment and confiscations, &c. Neither are they to carry any tobacco or snuff ashore, or to carry it from one ship to another, under the same penalties; the same care to be taken as to soap and cards, under the same penalties.

8. June 29.
Capt. Ellis, of the brig Eliza, from Malaga and Gibraltar, arrived at the Lazaretto, informs, that it was reported at Gibrat-tar, previously to his sailing, that the Prince of Peace was displaced, and the Count de Florida Blanca re-established at the Court of Madrid. The politicians at Gibraltar were anxiously awaiting the information of that important intelligence.

LEXINGTON, June 15.

A report has been a few day in circulation, and obtained some credit, that captain Lewis and Clarke, with their companions had been fallen upon by the Osage Indians and put to death, only two men escaping.
We have the pleasure to inform our readers that the report is without foundation; that on the 19th ult. captain Lewis was at St.
Louis, and expected to depart that or the succeeding day, and was in high spirits.
The report probably originated from some traders on the Missouri, and others on the Ans-Are river, having fallen victims to their own imprudence, or the jealousy of the Indians.

TUESDAY, JULY 3.

To-morrow being the Anniversary of the American Independence, no paper will be issued from this office until Thursday next.

A respectable commercial friend has favored the Office of the Morning Chronicle with the following official article relative to the trade of the United States with the colony of Surinam.

PROCLAMATION.

By his excellency Major General Sir Charles Green, commanding his majesty's land forces and Governor of the Colony, &c.

Whereas it is expedient that regulations should be established respecting the trade to and from this colony in neutral vessels, until his majesty's pleasure shall be made known, I have thought fit, by virtue of the power and authority in me vested, to publish this my proclamation, hereby declaring:

That it shall and may be lawful, for the space of 4 months from and after the publication hereof to import into this colony, in American or other neutral bottoms belonging to the subjects of any power in amity with his majesty, tobacco, pitch, tar, turpentine, hemp, flax, masts, yards, bowsprit, staves, heading boards, timber, shingles and lumber of any sort; horses, cattle, sheep, hogs, poultry and live stock of any sort; bread, biscuit, flour, pease, beans, potatoes, wheat, rice, oats, barley and grain of any sort; salt beef, pork, butter, pickled and dry salt fish, from the American dominions of such neutral powers aforesaid, upon payment of a duty of 4 per cent. as well upon the commodities herein before specified, as upon emergency or otherwise.

And whereas it is also expedient to allow such American and other neutral vessels as are permitted to trade under this proclamation, to export certain articles, the produce of this colony in return, but which shall not exceed in value the amount of the cargoes so imported, I do therefore declare that it shall and may be lawful to permit the exportation of sugar, rum and molasses in such American and other neutral vessels as aforesaid, upon payment of a duty of 8 per cent. upon such commodities as shall be so exported.

And I do hereby direct that the duties herein imposed upon imports and exports, shall be levied and collected according to the regulations existing on that head, previous to the late surrender of the colony to his majesty's arms.

Done at Paramaribo, in the colony of Surinam, this 29th day of May, 1804, and in the 44th year of his majesty's reign.

CHARLES GREEN, Governor.

By his Excellency's command.

R. Ross, Secretary.

God save the King.

Extract of a letter from a gentleman in London, to his friend in New York, dated April 25.

"I am not altogether at my ease in regard to the relative situation of the government of America and that of this country.
The men employed by Mr. Jefferson, are completely hostile in their wishes, and indecent and violent in their conduct towards this country. Our ministry, in compliance with the general wish of the nation, have been moderate in their language, and forbearing in their conduct, under circumstances which would certainly have authorised expostulation and justified resentment.
—Mr. Munro and Mr. Livingston are known, and it is not believed that they speak the sentiments of the American people, although it is not doubted that they are faithful representatives of your executive.

The interests of America and Great-Brittain are deeply concerned in a continuance of their friendship; but should the present war be prolonged; and should your present executive hold his situation, I do not foresee a possibility of avoiding a rupture between the two countries; for contumely and insult are what no British ministry can bear, and keep their places. The spirit of the nation will be roused at the foul dignity offered to their King, and to his ministers; and they would drive from their places any ministry who should refuse to be the organ and instrument of general resentment.

The conduct of Mr. Livingston at the Court of France, in sanctioning, by his official answer to the communication of Tal-eyrand, the atrocious calumnies fabricated against this country by the pretended letters of Mr. Drake, has produced a sensation here among all classes and parties, which I am concerned to observe, but cannot disapprove. That Mr. Drake had some intercourse with the interior of France, there can be no doubt—no person denies it, and none can be surprised at it. But that Mr.
Drake had any connexion with any conspirators whose object was the assassination of Bonaparte, or that he wrote the letters now published as his, is an absolute falsehood—and it is of a piece with a thousand fabrications which Bonaparte, and the predecessors of Bonaparte in the calamitous course of the French revolution have practised. The conduct of Mr. Livingston admits of no excuse, as he has departed from the usual form of official communication, to gratify his own feelings, and offer insult to Great-Britain—and this has been the more noticed because it has been considered as a discovery of the sentiments of himself and the Executive he represents.
In regard to Mr. Munroe's mode of conducting business I formerly wrote you, and as the man and his predilection to France, (even in preference to this country, and to his official duty when an Ambassador) are well known, you cannot be surprized at any thing unconciliatory or even offensive which he may have done in this country. What all this will produce may be easily foreseen. But insult and indignity are seldom forgotten; and they are never forgiven when offered to a party embarrassed, and at the moment unable to resent them."

Barbucue.

RAN AWAY from the subscriber, living at Cub Run Ford, within three miles of Centerville, a Negro man named CHASE, formerly the property of Robert Loston, (sometime since owner of the Occoquan Iron Works): he had on, when he left home, oznaburghs shirt and trousers, country wove striped cotton waistcoat, a new coat of mixed cloth, and indifferent hat and shoes. He is about 60 years of age, and somewhat grey, has been hurt in one of his knee pans, which causes him to walk lame, and that leg is smaller than the other; he much resembles a Guinea negro and is about 5 feet 8 inches high. Whoever apprehends and secures said fellow, so that I get reasonable charges if brought home.

He was seen in several places on Monday

TRAVELS IN GREECE.

PROPOSALS,

FOR PUBLISHING BY SUBSCRIPTION,

THE TRAVELS OF

Anacharsis the Younger,

IN GREECE:

During the middle of the fourth Century, before the Christian Era,

With copious Notes and References.

BY

THE ABBE BARTHELEMY,

Keeper of the Medals in the Cabinet of the King of France, and Member of the Royal Academy of Inscriptions and Belles Lettres.

Translated from the French.

First American, from the fourth London edition

IN FOUR VOLUMES.

THE work now offered to the American reader exhibits a complete view of the antiquities, manners, customs, religious ceremonies, laws, arts, and literature of ancient Greece, at the period of its greatest splendour. A knowledge of these has hitherto been only attainable by a laborious perusal of writers who have been little solicitous to join entertainment with instruction.
The Travels of Anacharsis, on the contrary, are so written, that the reader may frequently be induced to imagine he is perusing a work of mere amusement, invention, and fancy; till his eye glances to the bottom of the page, when he perceives there is scarcely a sentence, and not a single fact or circumstance, but is supported by the authority of some ancient author. The amazing number of these quotations may, perhaps at first sight, seem to have been unnecessary, and to have more the appearance of a parade of erudition, than to be of any real utility; but it is to be remembered that, at the same time that they must be highly acceptable to the man of learning, by enabling him to refer immediately to the original author, they are extremely useful, nay, we may say, absolutely necessary, even to such readers as can never be supposed to have any intention to consult the authorities quoted; as they clearly shew that such an idea, or such a circumstance, is not merely a decoration, or the offspring of the fancy of the author, but immediately taken from some ancient writer, and therefore perfectly accordant to the general scope and plan of the work.

TERMS.

I. The first Edition in America of Anacharsis's Travels, will be comprised in four Vols. octavo.

II. It shall be printed on handsome wove paper and a new type casting for the purpose. Each Volume will contain about 400 pages.

III. The price to Subscribers, per Vol. bound and lettered, will be 2 dollars; in boards, 1 dollar and 75 cents, to be paid on the delivery of each Volume.

The European Edition sells at 12 dollars per settr.

IV. There shall be a handsome Map of Greece given with the first Volume, to be executed by one of the best Engravers.

V. Those who obtain ten Subscribers and become responsible for the payment of the same, shall receive one copy gratis. The work is now at Press, and shall be finished with all possible dispatch.

of Virginia, for the laudable purpose of erecting a seminary of learning in or near the metropolis of this state. With this view, it is contemplated to raise 200,000 dollars, and 2,500 dollars in addition, for defraying the expenses attendant on drawing the lottery. Citizens of the first respectability have been selected as trustees, and they have pledged themselves to use their utmost exertions to carry it into effect. The scheme has the advantage of giving to each adventurer, a chance for some very large prizes whilst the proportion of prizes to blanks is so great as to invite the friends of the intended institution to partake in the lottery, with very little risk of their becoming losers.
The treasurer of this state is to be appointed to receive the money for the tickets as they are sold, and to pay the amount of the prizes to the fortunate adventurers. It is declared that the above considerations will induce a rapid sale of tickets and the drawing will commence as soon as a sufficient number shall be sold to authorize it—which it is believed will be on the second Monday in December next.

JUST PUBLISHED,
By COTTON and STEWART, Price 125 Cents,
ILLUSTRATIONS
MASONRY.

By Wm. Preston, Past Master of the Lodge of Antiquity, acting by immemorial Constitution.
The first American—from the tenth London edition.

THIS tract is divided into four Books. In the first book, the excellency of Masonry is displayed. In the second book, the general plan of the subjects treated in three degrees, is illustrated with occasional remarks, and a brief description is given of the ancient ceremonies of the Order. This part of the treatise, which the author considers the most essential for the instruction and improvement of his brethren, is considerably extended in the present Edition. The third book contains the copy of a curious old manuscript on Masonry, with annotations, the better to explain this authentic document of antiquity. The fourth book is restricted to the history of Masonry from its first appearance in England, in the course of which are introduced the most remarkable occurrences of the society both at home and abroad, with some account of the principal patrons and protectors of the fraternity at different periods. The progress of Masonry on the continent as well as in India and America, is also traced, while the proceedings of the brethren of Scotland particularly claim attention.
Throughout the whole are interspersed several explanatory notes, containing some useful information. To this book many considerable additions are made, particularly the last section, which brings down the history of Masonry from the grand feast in 1795 to the end of the year 1803; and contains, among other interesting particulars, a few general remarks on some late publications against the Society of Free Masons.

Ten Dollars Reward.
RAN AWAY on the second inst. a Mulatto girl called

MATILDA,
she is about twenty years of age, remarkably low, but stout & well made; she is so extremely white that her being a Mulatto, is scarcely to be distinguished; she has grey eyes, light hair short & curly, and uncommonly large feet, with heels projecting unusually far behind; she speaks flowing and very well, she has absconded several times and in each instance assumed a feigned name, it is probable she may again exercise this means to facilitate her escape. She took with her two Mullin gowns, one striped, the other checkered, a Bombazett gown, and a yellow Mullin scoop, with several other clothes, which I do not recollect.

Any person apprehending her, and bringing her to my house, shall receive the above reward, or ferry billings if committed to any jail, and information given me.

GEO. H. CHAPMAN, Sen.
N. B. On her last elopement she dressed herself in mens cloaths, and assumed the profession of a tailor.
